Weekly highlightsMrs Steven

Some of our pupils accessing Teams for the first time.

Miss Young

My highlight this week has been learning all about Keyworker Farmers and farming in Scotland. I really enjoyed my local walk to a nearby farm to take photos of the animals for my class.

Mrs Johnstone

The highlights from Primary 6 this week have been reading the new book by JK Rowling called 'The Ickabog' and taking part in the illustrations competition. Some of the P6 illustrations should definitely appear in the book! Another highlight has been the number of people taking part in the video check ins, we have had 2 more people joining - well done, I have loved hearing from you all!

Miss White

The highlight of my week has been hearing parent's feedback on the new rainbow learning grids and preparing next week's learning grids! I've received many photos this week from parents and it makes my day!

Mr Adam

One of my pupils running the daily mile in a giraffe costume.

Miss McClure

This week, P6/7 were given the task of designing their own farms! We had some great pictures and designs come through - we even had a snail farm! We have also started to read JK Rowlings new book, "The Ickabog" and we're very excited for the next instalment!

Mrs Wells

Our highlights for P4 This week are photographs of activities pupils have engaged in and the HWB lessons on Honesty.

Mr Hunter

My highlight this week was being to talk to some of pupils and parents.

Mr Price

For the last two weeks, Primary five have been studying France. This week has seen impressive 3D sculptures in Minecraft of the Eiffel Tower and the Arc De Triomphe. There have been wonderful poems and top ten lists of French food and drink written in English and French. We have also been practicing words and vocabulary on the Linguascope.com website.

Mrs Mohammed

A pupil in P5 created the Arc de Triomphe using Minecraft and a pupil in P6/7 made this amazing chair from a pallet (wow! If only we'd known he could have rattled some up for the school garden!).

Glenvue Nursery

There are a few photos on growing radishes, a Teddy Bear Picnic and making a bear mask

Ms Wilson

My highlight this week has been speaking to most of the children in my class over the phone. I have enjoyed hearing all of their stories about what they have been

	doing at home and have loved being able to have a conversation with the boys and girls in P1. Hopefully, I will be able to catch everyone who missed the call this week! I can't wait to hear from you! 😊 Weekly Challenge  Pick 5 items each week and let us know how you get on – there are 73 to choose from! https://sway.office.com/RJzfjAzthQ7b2Wcl?ref=Link
